

$1 MILLION ISSUE . . .

Bond Rejected At North Platte

By DICK MEZZY
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
North Platte voters defeated a special bond issue for a $1 million auditorium, as many Nebraska towns held municipal elections Tuesday.

The issue lost by a 10-1 margin. Voters cast 4,281 ballots against, with 475 in favor.

Voters in Geneva turned down a $138,000 proposed bond issue for a new city building and fire station by a vote of almost two to one.

Voters cast 534 votes against the issue to 274 in favor.

McCook voters Tuesday approved the election of a board of education for the McCook Junior College District separate from the board of education of the city of McCook.

The issue carried with 1,446 in favor to 537 against. A similar proposal was defeated two years ago by 1,329-1,290 vote.

Blue Hill voters okayed a fluoridation proposal 167 for, 111 against. It was the first time the issue was placed before the voters.

Comstock voters cast a 'sentiment' vote on a proposal to have the village subsidize garbage collection. The vote turned out 50% in favor, 50% against.

Voters in six towns approved liquor by the drink, while two communities rejected it. The results of a vote on the issue at a ninth town, Center, were not immediately available.

Davenport citizens approved liquor by the drink by a slim 2 vote margin. The vote was reported 89 in favor, 87 against.

A recount of the vote may be scheduled next Monday if any opposition to the outcome is voiced.

The liquor by the drink issue in Axtell was approved easily with 112 voters in favor, to 62 against.

A similar issue was defeated in Byron, 46 against, 25 in favor.

Murray voters approved liquor by the drink and by package, on a vote of 51 to 35.

Arcadia voters defeated a liquor by the drink issue by a vote of 91 against, 26 in favor.

Residents in Bellwood approved a liquor by the drink issue by a vote of 95 to 38.

Oxford voters also approved liquor by the drink with a vote of 159 for, 115 against.

Strang voters approved liquor by the drink on a vote of 17 in favor to 7 against.

As a result of a law passed by the 1969 Legislature some municipal elections will be held May 12 in conjunction with the statewide primary election. The law left the choice up to the individual communities.

SCHOOL AID BILL PASSES

$24.8 Billion Ok'd For 3-Year Period

. . . DIXIE INTEGRATION RIDER SHORN

Washington (P) — Shorn of a southern-sponsored rider on school desegregation, a $24.8-billion federal school-aid measure Tuesday completed its passage through Congress.

The House voted 312 to 58 for the legislation which authorizes the huge expenditure over a three-year period to expand a wide variety of programs aimed at strengthening elementary and secondary education. It passed the Senate 74 to 4 last week.

Most of the House opposition came from Southerners who objected to the rewriting of a Senate provision aimed at requiring a uniform national policy in dealing with school segregation.

Distinction Continues

Compromise language adopted by the House and Senate conferees continues to recognize a distinction between the officially sanctioned segregation that used to exist in the South and the kind common in the North which results from racially segregated housing patterns.

The original Senate rider would have recognized no such difference and its sponsors were candidly hopeful that its effect would be to slow the pace of Southern desegregation by arousing resentment outside the South at efforts to end de facto segregation.

The huge sums authorized by the bill are far larger than President Nixon has requested for education, as was also the case under the Johnson administration.

The money actually appropriated for the programs has averaged less than half of the amount authorized each year since 1965.

Nixon, for example, has budgeted $1.3 billion for the major program in the bill, which seeks to improve the educational opportunities of children in low-income school districts. But the bill authorizes $3.6 billion, going up to $5.5 billion in 1973.

Impacted-Area Discrepancy.

Another wide discrepancy exists in the impacted-areas aid program, which provides grants to school districts that include large numbers of children of federal employees.

Nixon has asked Congress to cut back sharply on the program and has budgeted only $425 million for it next year. But the bill would expand the program and run its cost up over $1 billion.

In all, the bill authorizes $7.1 billion for elementary and secondary school programs in fiscal 1971, $7.7 billion in 1972 and $9.9 billion in 1973.

The three-year extension of the existing act will deny the administration an opportunity to come up with any major innovations of its own until 1972. The major battles, however, will be on money as the Democratic-controlled Congress tries to boost spending nearer the authorized levels.

The struggle will begin in the House next week when the Appropriations Committee is due to report its bill for funding education programs in fiscal 1971.

Ex-Champ Hits Hard In Delinquency Fight

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

A former world boxing champion scored four successive blows in his latest fight, a battle against juvenile delinquency.

Lincoln High students gave Archie Moore an unrestrained enthusiastic reception as the former light-heavyweight boxer demonstrated what youths can do.

Although students did most of the performing during Moore's four assembly appearances, the Boxing Hall of Fame member highlighted at least one program by singing a song he had composed himself, "It's Time To Live."

A country western vocalist recorded the song last November, but the athlete was musical enough to carry the tune, emphasizing the words in each verse, "It's people who won't try that keeps bothering me."

In a light-hearted presentation filled with instructions about respect for teachers and the place of students, never going out the back door and making one's mind move fast, Moore was able to encourage most of the student volunteers to try everything he told them to do, including singing a song.

volunteers' performances but excitedly applauded every effort to perform — even the "row, row your boat" rendition.

Moore urged the students to join his crusade of "fighting for the rights of all young people to grow together." He declared that students should "get rid of their outmoded ideas" and defend the "right of everyone to be heard."

The former champion was brought to Lincoln by the Cornhusker Council Boy Scouts of America. He currently is serving as community relations specialist for the Boy Scouts of America.

His ABC program for underprivileged boys is designed to teach youths to protect themselves from things that would "tear them down spiritually, morally and physically."

ABC means "any boy can" or "any body can," Moore told the Lincoln students.

Officials Seek Man In Shooting Incident

Law enforcement officials in southeast Nebraska were searching for an 18-year-old suspect in connection with a shooting at 2218 Q in Lincoln early Wednesday.

The victim of the shooting, who was not immediately identified, was undergoing emergency treatment at Lincoln General Hospital.

Initial reports said he appeared to be in satisfactory condition with two gunshot wounds in the abdominal area. Police said the weapon was a .22 caliber handgun.

The suspect, a Lincoln youth driving a bronze 1960 Pontiac, apparently escaped the scene soon after the incident.

Police thought the suspect might have headed for Crete, and officers set up a roadblock at 14th and Highway 2.

Blackout Hits NU Campuses

Power plant employees at the University of Nebraska were working early Wednesday to restore power to the University's East Campus and a portion of the City Campus.

According to unconfirmed reports, power was out in several buildings on the City Campus and throughout the East Campus, where power was not expected to be restored until 5 a.m.

Businessmen View Neighborhood Improvement Idea Favorably

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

College View businessmen Tuesday evening reacted favorably to the idea of a neighborhood improvement plan for the residential area north of the College View business district.

But the businessmen didn't commit themselves to a plan outlined by City Housing Administrator Carl Kopines to involve the city and residents in efforts to improve particular neighborhoods throughout the city.

Kopines said the improvement plan would be implemented in those neighborhoods where minimal problems exist and where the residents are interested in improving environmental conditions.

Key Point

Key point of the plan, he told members of the Southeast Lions Club and the College View Businessmen's Association, is preventing an area from developing major problems.

"The plan represents a totally local effort dependent upon the availability of existing resources," said Kopines, who added that no area would be selected for such a plan in which the needed improvements would "overburden the resident or the taxpayer."

Kopines said his office has surveyed the city for possible areas in which the neighborhood improvement plan could be implemented. He said that one area which could benefit from the plan is an area bounded by 46th, 51st, Van Dorn and Calvert Sts.

Homes 'Sound

He pointed out that most of the homes in the area are "good, sound structures."

The area, he said, would be affected by proposed commercial development to the north.

Kopines said that a proposed shopping center in the vicinity of 48th and Van Dorn "would have a great impact on the area," noting that "there would then be business activity on both ends of the residential area."

Under the plan, he said, "everyone would work together so that the residential integrity of the area is maintained."

Not Selected

Kopines said that no decision has been made on a neighborhood for a pilot project.

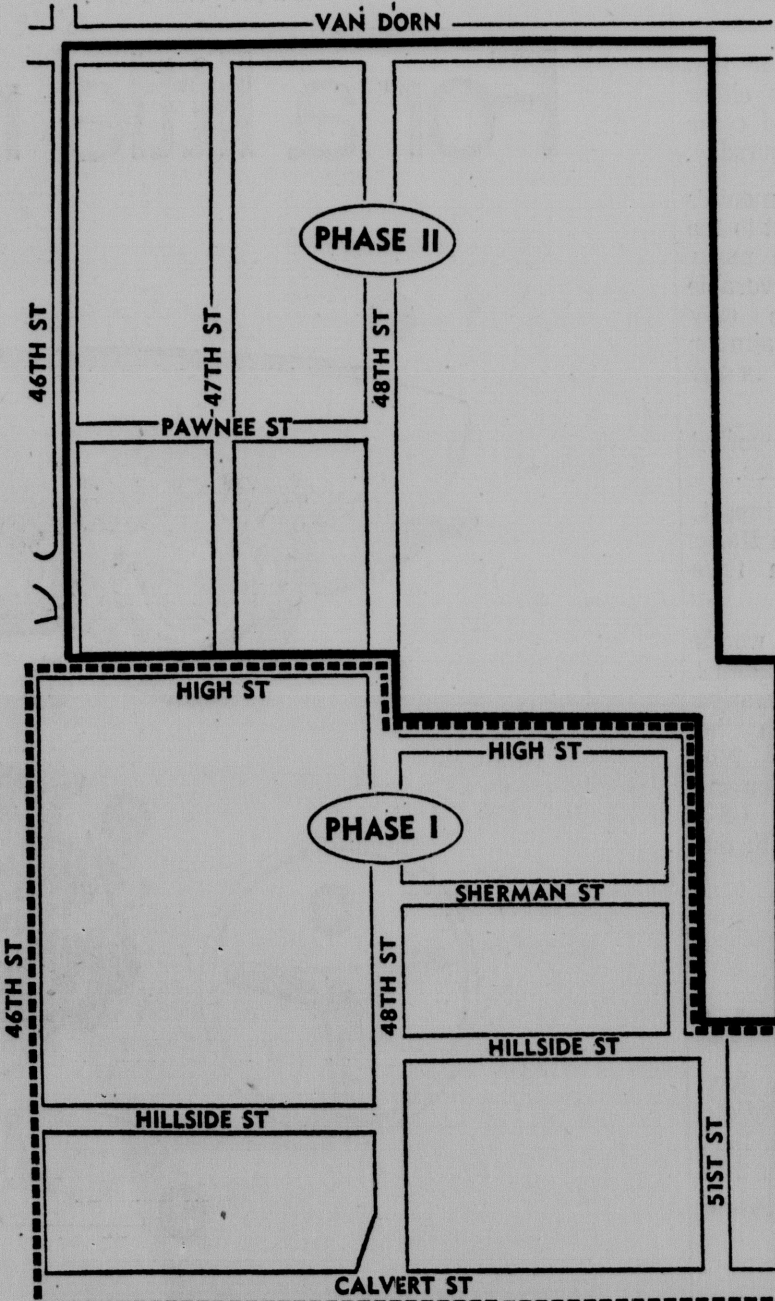

Those who attended the meeting said that the idea was something entirely new to them. They said they wanted time to think about the plan.

The group decided to hold another joint meeting later this month to go over the possibility of requesting the plan for the proposed area.

Effect On Businesses

Harry McClellan, chairman of the businessmen's association, said a big concern of businessmen is the effect the plan would have on the College View business district.

McClellan said he feels the implementation of the plan would probably be a good thing for the business district.

Neighborhood improvement, he said, "would force us into action to improve the business district. Otherwise, our business district would likely go downhill."

McClellan said that improvements to the business district should be made concurrently and in harmony with the improvement of the residential area.

Dry Weather And Wind Increase Threat Of Fire

From Press Reports

Severely dry weather and fierce winds have created a major fire threat throughout Nebraska, State Fire Marshal Don Venter said Tuesday.

"From reports we've had so far, the whole state is like a tinder box," Venter said. "And it'll get worse until we get some moisture or at least until the wind velocity reduces."

As Venter issued the warning, fire fighters across the state were busy trying to control grass fires whipped by south winds up to 60 miles per hour.

1,500 Acres Burn

One of the largest fires spread over 1,500 acres of prairie near Superior, injuring four persons and burning partially the Superior fire truck.

Fire Chief Don Smalley of Superior said the blaze was controlled Tuesday night, about five hours after it began its rampage. It burned out two buildings on the Warren Roe farm and a vacant house on another farm.

Hospitalized with burns on the hands and face after they were trapped by the fire were Firemen Earl Osborn, Ernest Bridewell and Mike Pierce, plus a volunteer helper, Lloyd Davis, all of Superior.

Two of the four were burned staying behind to help start the fire truck, which was trapped by the fire when flames took oxygen out of the air, causing the motor to die.

Firemen from Nelson, Guide Rock and Rusk assisted the volunteer Superior Fire Department.

A rash of grass fires was reported in the Kearney and Grand Island areas Tuesday afternoon.

Winds were fanning a grassfire which ignited somewhere south of Wood River Tuesday afternoon. The fire was moving north across Interstate 80 toward Wood River, fire officials said.

Kearney firemen were called to grass fires at the Odessa Interstate 80 interchange, an area about 10 miles northeast of Kearney, and another area four miles northwest of Riverdale.

East of St. Paul in Howard County, a large grass fire scorched several thousand acres. A spokesman said no one was injured and there was no loss of buildings.

A number of grass fires in Omaha led Fire Chief Martin Dineen to ban outdoor fires in the city.

Spread Index 'High'

Venter said the "fire spread index" was in the upper 90s on Monday, and he termed the index "extremely high" in the east Tuesday and "very high" in the west.

The index stages are low (0-10), moderate (11-20), high (21-40), very high (41-60) and extreme (61-100). The index measures the ability of a fire to spread in an open field.

Venter noted that he formerly issued a ban on open field burnings during extremely dry periods, but he said his authority to do so was challenged.

A bill introduced in the last session of the Legislature to give the fire marshal the authority was defeated.

"Now I'm personally pleading with the people to be extremely cautious about open field burning," Venter said.

Building Destroyed

A fire at the Kearney Air Base Tuesday destroyed a small building being used by the Buffalo Air Service. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined, Kearney firemen said.

High winds were also involved Tuesday when a barn was destroyed near Kearney and when a haystack burned near Ord.

Also at Ord, a 59-year-old man was blown from a railroad car while he was loading lumber. The man was identified as Lloyd Johnson of North Loup. He was flung off balance when a strong gust caught a board he was holding.

LINCOLN MAY BAN BURNING

The Lincoln fire department fought 11 grass fires Tuesday, and Assistant Chief DeWayne McIntyre said low humidity coupled with high winds may require that some type of ban be placed on burning.

McIntyre said however that such a ban probably won't be enacted unless humidity drops much lower and winds continue.

Coalition Explains Lack Of Endorsement

The Nebraska Democratic Coalition's lack of endorsement for the gubernatorial candidacy of J. J. Exon of Lincoln was based more on his position on current issues than on 1968 politics, an executive committee member said.

"It was not so much 1968 as a judgment that, based on his position on issues and proposed policies, it appears that he would be a conservative governor," Eric Carlson of Lincoln said.

"Mr. Exon appears to be more concerned with reducing taxes than with providing services."

The Coalition, meeting in Lincoln last weekend, decided to withhold its endorsement from all Democratic gubernatorial aspirants. The two major contenders are Exon and State Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Exon, as national committeeman, supported the Johnson-Humphrey administration in 1968 when it was under attack from a number of Democratic anti-war presidential candidates. Coalition members generally supported administration critics.

If you've always thought you couldn't afford an Olds, here are two reasons to think again!

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Oldsmobile is out of their reach. They think it costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

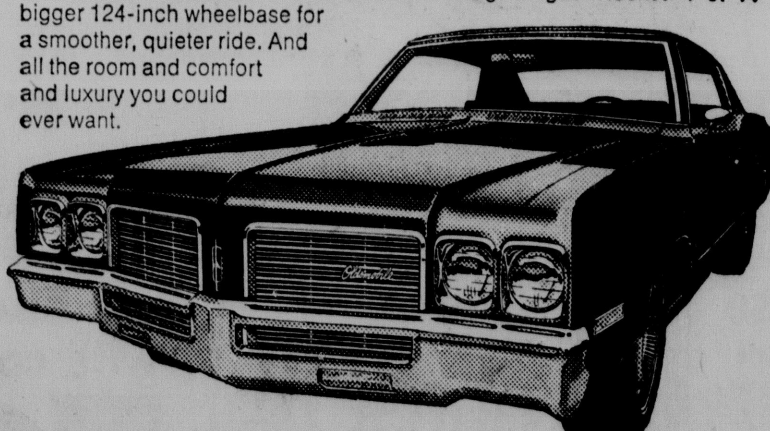

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with the so-called low-priced cars. Each with all the traditional values an Oldsmobile represents. Great engineering. Fine performance. Exceptional comfort. Solid quality.

So if you're going to pay the price of an Olds, you should get one. See your Olds dealer this week. He'll prove to you that you're closer to an Olds than you think.

Cutlass S: The sporty Olds—priced right down with the low-priced names. But price is only part of the story. Included as standard equipment are such things as: Recessed wipers. Hidden antenna. Deluxe steering wheel. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Door side-guard beams. Flo-Thru Ventilation. Rocket V-8. Bias-belted tires. Foam-padded seats.

Delta 88: The 'big Olds' with the surprisingly modest price. Included in that price are things you might not even expect. Power steering, for example. Power front disc brakes. Regular-gas Rocket V-8. A bigger 124-inch wheelbase for a smoother, quieter ride. And all the room and comfort and luxury you could ever want.

Voluntary Neighborhood Betterment Plan Readied

... BY CITY HOUSING CHIEF

By TOM EKVAL
Star Staff Writer

A plan designed to improve neighborhood conditions in Lincoln on a voluntary basis has been formulated by City Housing Administrator Carl Kopines. Kopines, who is charged with administering the city's minimum standards housing code, said Tuesday in an interview his "neighborhood improvement plan" will be offered to neighborhoods interested in improving the environment.

"We will not go where we are not wanted," the housing administrator said.

New Approach

The proposed neighborhood improvement program, he said, represents an entirely new approach for a city in bringing about neighborhood improvement.

"Such a project, to my knowledge, has not been tried elsewhere," said Kopines, who has been preparing the neighborhood improvement plan for the last several months.

He emphasized that traditional minimum standards housing code enforcement as practiced elsewhere — forced compliance — "should not presently be considered as part of what we plan to do in the neighborhood improvement plan."

Kopines said he feels voluntary compliance with the housing code will be successful because neighborhood residents will have expressed interest in neighborhood improvement before the plan is initiated for the particular area.

Two-Step Procedure

The neighborhood improvement plan calls for a two-step approach "to maintain and preserve the neighborhood as a wholesome environment."

One step involves Kopines'

J. J. Exon Calls For Expansion Of Merit System

Democratic gubernatorial candidate J. J. Exon of Lincoln has called for expansion of the state merit system.

In an address to the Dodge County Democratic Women's Club, Exon said the system should be expanded to include many lower and middle echelon employees of state government not now covered.

Under the present merit system, he said, only employees in departments utilizing federal funds for a portion of their salaries are protected from dismissal without cause.

Fair treatment of state employees in terms of permanency and representative pay scales is "the best way to increase efficiency in government," Exon said.

Theologist Says Social Action, Evangelism Can't Be Split

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Social action and evangelism cannot be carried out by the church independently of each other, some 600 Nebraska Methodist women were told here Tuesday night.

Dr. Bruce D. Rahtjen, associate professor of biblical theology at St. Paul School of Theology Methodist in Kansas City, Mo., declared that "social action and evangelism are both on the same side of a coin."

"The church is caught today in a difficult situation with one very vocal group proclaiming that the only function of the church is to get involved in society and change things while another very vocal group is contending that the church must deal only with the salvation of the individual," Dr. Rahtjen said.

"But the church cannot do one without doing the other," he emphasized.

In remarks prepared for delivery at the first annual meeting of the Nebraska Conference of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Dr. Rahtjen said the role of the church is to "proclaim the gospel."

However, in carrying out that responsibility, the church may find people who cannot hear the gospel or respond to it. Then the church may "find itself in tension with society."

The church will have to "take on society insofar as society makes it difficult for people to hear and respond to the gospel," he pointed out.

The people in the middle who do not accede to one philosophy or the other are "attacked by both sides," Dr. Rahtjen complained. As a result, the church is "having a hard time functioning at all."

The theology professor called the practice of identifying the gospel with one's own beliefs as "idolatry, no matter who does it."

The "people in the middle" are going to move ahead in the work of the church and "not let themselves be pressured out of their conviction."

Dr. Rahtjen emphasized that traditionally the church has "come through the strongest — made the most effective witness — when it has been under the most pressure."

He said that the church moving into the "kind of crisis situation in which it has come through most successfully in the past is the brightest ray of hope I see."

The two-day conference, being held at Trinity Methodist Church, is the first annual meeting of the reorganized women's group since the Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Churches merged into the United Methodist Church.

An annual report of the president showed that 28,250 Nebraska women are members of the conference in some 454 local societies.

In the year ending Jan. 6, 1970, the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild had disbursed a total of $356,190, primarily for mission work.

Miss Barbara E. Cempbell, executive secretary of leadership development for the Women's Division, Board of Missions, explained how the money is used in the various kinds of church mission work.

Tiemann Boosting Law Communication

Gov. Norbert Tiemann Tuesday told officials planning Law Day observances in Nebraska that his administration is attempting to promote better communication between law officers and minority youth and Indians.

The governor's minority youth advisory council has been given the opportunity to meet with all kinds of officials, he said.

"We just asked them who they wanted to talk to," Tiemann said.

The ensuing meetings have resulted in "some very heated discussions and debates," he noted.

But officials are able to "get a better grasp of the frustrations of these youths," he said, and minority youths, in turn, may be able to better understand that there are means of resolving their problems.

If some laws are not good, the governor noted, "there are methods for changing them."

And young persons need to understand that, he said.

They also should understand that "this whole society is based on the need for the maintenance of law," he said.

Tiemann also said he had formally named an advisory commission on Indian affairs Tuesday.

The Indian unit should "give law enforcement officials a better insight into the problems which exist in Indian areas," Tiemann said.

"There are better answers (to law enforcement problems) than just building a bigger jail," he noted.

Law Day observances will be held throughout the state May 1. Tiemann is honorary chairman for the event.

William J. Baird of Omaha, president of the Nebraska State

Bar Association, called for "a new patriotism based on respect for law."

Baird told Law Day planners that there seems to be "a growing feeling" among some Americans that laws are to be "used" or "flouted" when it serves a citizen's purpose.

That kind of attitude can only lead to anarchy, he warned.

"Possibly, some of our laws are not perfect," Baird noted. "But there are ways of changing them . . . through an orderly process."

"A primary cure for much of the fear and terror found in our city streets is to recapture that respect for law which was and is basic to our system of government."

City Park Board Meets April 16

A meeting of the City Park and Recreation Advisory Board will be held Thursday, April 16, rather than April 9 as originally scheduled.

The meeting date was changed because Park and Recreation Dept. staff members will be attending the Nebraska Recreation and Parks Association meeting in Omaha on Thursday and Friday this week.

Lincoln Park Supt. Don Smith is to be installed as state president at the Omaha meeting.

Devlin Leaves Hospital

Indian Affairs Commission Named

The Governor's Commission on Indian Affairs was officially created Tuesday with the signing of an executive order by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Noting the commission is uniquely composed entirely of Indians, Tiemann said, "Rightfully, the Indians feel that they should be the primary spokesmen in determining their own destiny."

"It is my hope," he said, "this commission will be the vehicle whereby the Indians of Nebraska will be able to work together to solve many of their common problems."

The all-Indian commission was suggested to Tiemann at a November town hall meeting at Winnebago and the governor named a steering group in January to make recommendations on its formation.

Commission members appointed by the governor are:

Leonard Springer, Edward Cline and Victor Robinson of Macy, representing the Omaha Tribe.

Gordon Beaver and Felix White of Winnebago and Elwood Harding of Omaha, representing the Winnebago Tribe.

Donald LaPointe of Norfolk, Willard Mackey Sr. of Niobrara and Gordon Klito of Center, representing the Santee Tribe.

Oliver Saunsoo Jr. of Lincoln, representing Lincoln; Marion Penika and Peter Thomas of Omaha, representing Omaha; and Carl Janis of Alliance, member at large.

The 13 members serve without pay, but may be reimbursed for travel expense. The commission can employ a full-time executive secretary.

The commission is empowered under executive order with assisting all tribes to compromise their differences and work for solution of common problems, maintaining liaison with state and federal agencies regarding legislation and activities affecting Nebraska Indians and developing plans and programs for Indians needing assistance in finding employment, acquiring education, improving housing, obtaining medical assistance and generally in becoming self-sufficient.

Oil Strike Made

Houston (UPI) —Imperial-American Management Co. has brought in an oil well in the Durham-Strawn field in Coke County, Tex., that flowed at a rate of 211 barrels of 43 degree gravity oil daily from a depth of 7,075 feet. There were also indications of potential gas production.

Longtime University Printer George Bainbridge, 63, Dies

Funeral services have been set for 2 p.m. Friday for George A. "Tony" Bainbridge, 63, a printer at the University of Nebraska for more than 34 years.

Mr. Bainbridge died unexpectedly Monday afternoon at his home, 7135 Englewood Drive, of an apparent heart attack.

It's Birthday Month In Suburbia

MISS LYNN GOTTSCHALK

Of special interest to campus circles this morning is the announcement made by Mrs. Mary Jane Gottschalk of Sidney, of the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Lynn Ann, to Dana Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Roper of Lincoln.

Saturday, June 13, has been chosen as the date of the wedding.

Miss Gottschalk, who will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is majoring in journalism, is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority, of which she has served as president, and of Mortar Board. The bride-elect served as a countess in the 1969 Court of Ak-Sar-Ben.

Mr. Roper also will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where he is majoring in journalism, and where he is a member of Alpha Phi Omega and Sigma Delta Chi honoraries.

What a pleasant change of weather we've been having this week! We have the warm, golden glow of the sun to wake us in the morning rather than the gray skies of snow and sleet. With the warming temperatures and sunny days lawns everywhere are beginning to turn green and it won't be long now before the lawn mower and sprinkler will be alternating across the lawns.

Birthday celebrations seem to be among the major "happenings" recently in suburbia. The news today, for instance, includes birthday celebrations of a great-grandmother who is 88 and two little girls — one who is just two and the other who is seven.

On Sunday, April 6, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kyles of South Hills joined in the celebration honoring Mrs. John Ostrom, Mr. Kyles' grandmother, on her 88th anniversary. The honoree actually was born on April 9, but the festivities were held earlier so all of the family could be present. Mr. and Mrs. Ostrom's three daughters and their families all live in Lincoln and they were all on hand for the festive event.

Joining in the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Ostrom's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Merrill and son Jack, at whose home the party was held; and two other sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Kyles and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Case.

The grandsons and families included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kyles and three children, Vicki, Lisa and Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Case and sons Robert and Scott. The day of festivities began with a dinner at 1 o'clock followed by a presentation of a large sheet cake for Mrs. Ostrom. The lettering on the cake said "Happy 88th Birthday, Mother, Grandmother and Great-grandmother!"

This Sunday will be a festive day at the Kenneth Sieckmeyer home in South Hills. On that day a family gathering is planned to honor the Sieckmeyer's daughter, Michelle, who turned two on Monday, April 6. Coming for the celebration and get-together will be Michelle's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sieckmeyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stich, as well as her uncle, Kelly Sieckmeyer and aunts Miss Shere Sieckmeyer and Miss Jeanne Sieckmeyer all of Crete and Mike Wentz.

A great-grandmother, Mrs. Helen Vrbsky of Crete, will be on hand as well as another uncle and aunt and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kennett and Tim and Shawn. Mrs. Kennett Sieckmeyer's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Neihart and three daughters Ianne, Pammy and Penne of Millard, and Michelle's other great-grandmother, Mrs. William Sieckmeyer will join in the festivities for the day.

MISS SHARON WOLFE

This morning Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Wolfe of Craig make announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Kay, to Gary Robert Loftis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loftis, also of Craig.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, Aug. 22.

Miss Wolfe is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, and of Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honoraries.

Mr. Loftis is a junior at Nebraska Wesleyan University where he is a member of Theta Chi fraternity, and of Sigma Pi Sigma, Pi Kappa Delta and Kappa Delta Pi national honoraries.

Tasting Tea Is Planned

There are exciting events all around town during the approaching weekend, and one of them is scheduled for Saturday afternoon — at 1 o'clock.

The Willard Sorority Alumnae Association is responsible for this particular Saturday afternoon gaiety which combines a number of interesting features.

It is a "tasting tea" to be held at the Gateway Auditorium, but the tea is but a small factor in the program for the afternoon.

Actually it is a fashion show, and the theme is "Summer Is —". In addition to viewing the latest in summer styles, the Willard alumnae has goodies to offer. Willing hands are concocting countless salads and desserts to please the taste — and the customers. Incidentally, if one finds a salad or a dessert — or both — to her liking she may purchase a special book that includes all of the recipes.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Albert Held, or Mrs. Don Dixon.

Girl Scout Training

Girl Scouts National Branch Office Selections Training will be held Thursday at the Lincoln Center Building, first floor auditorium. The session will take place between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Meetings Are Scheduled

The board of directors of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln will meet at 6:45 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Hotel Radisson-Cornhusker. A business meeting will follow at 7:30 o'clock.

A program entitled "New Phases of Extension" will highlight the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Home Economists in Homemaking to be held at Hill Hatchery, 6000

No. 56th St., beginning at 1 o'clock.

The Ceres Club will meet Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Second Baptist Church, 525 No. 58th St. Speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Thomas Thorson, professor of zoology at the University of Nebraska, who will give a talk entitled "Among the Sharks."

HOVLAND (SWANSON

American cameo glass was made by the Mount Washington Glass Company of New Bedford, Mass. about 1885. This vase was of pink glass over white glass, etched by acid. (Corning Museum of Glass, Corning Glass Center, Corning, N.Y.)

By RALPH AND TERRY KOVEL

Art responds to the laws of supply and demand just as food, jewelry, or stocks. Cameo glass was very much admired in the 19th century. It was so expensive that only a small group of collectors could own a piece. The glass factories that made cameo glass realized that there were many potential customers if the price of the glass could be lowered.

Cameo glass was first made by putting one colored layer of glass over another, and then carving away parts of the unwanted top layer. The finished vase had a raised design against a colored background glass.

Several English makers made a commercial version that replaced part of the handwork and lowered the price. The hand carving was only used for finishing. Wheel engraving was used for the rough cutting. The top layer of glass was made thinner so that there would be less glass to carve.

Even the less expensive 1880-1900 English versions of cameo glass are very expensive to buy today. Other kinds of 19th century cameo glass, such as acid-etched, French, or American pieces, are available at a lower price.

Q. We have been discussing simple kinds of lights, such as rush lights, shells holding oil and a wick, and captured fireflies. Now one of my students claims in one part of the world the natives simply put a wick in a dead bird or fish mouth and lit it. Can you trace these samples of lamps?

A. It is true that a very oily salmonid surf fish found near Vancouver Island could be dried, threaded with a wick, and lit. The bird lamp was a bit more complicated. Shetland Islanders caught stormy petrels (an oily bird), killed them, threaded wicks in the mouths, imbedded the feet in clay, and lit the lamps.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married 22 years. We have five children, three are away at college. The two at home are boys, 11 and 15. I want to put the boys in a very fine summer camp and go to visit my mother for six weeks this summer. I have never done this before and my husband is having a fit! He says I can do it only over his dead body. (What a temptation!)

Every vacation we visit his mother, and that's where he wants to go again. The boys say they don't want to go to visit Grandmother (his mother) again this summer and I can't blame them as there is nothing for them to do there.

Only one summer since I've been married have I visited my mother. I have no objection to my husband's spending his summer vacation with his mother, but I want to spend mine with my mother. How can I persuade my husband to let me go?

DOMINATED
DEAR DOMINATED: After 22 years of admitted "Domination" it won't be easy to "assert" yourself, but you can try. Appeal to his sense of fair play and logic. If he doesn't budge, ask him to put the question to an impartial third party. And if he still gives you that "over my dead body" routine, before you leave for your mother's, ask him to sign a statement stating that when you left he was alive and kicking.

DEAR ABBY: You recently compared the unpleasant odor of an unwashed man to that of a "MOUNTAIN GOAT"! You surely must have meant a "BARNYARD BILLY GOAT." Mountain goats do not smell bad, but barnyard billy goats do.

The mountain goat is one of our finest and cleanest big game animals.

I think you owe the mountain goats an apology.

KNOWS HIS GOATS
DEAR KNOWS: If there is an International Brotherhood of Mountain Goats, to them I hereby offer my most humble apologies. And in the future, if I ever decide to get anybody's goat, I shall first determine whether it's Mountain or Billy.

diamonds, dummy following low, and continues with the jack, which South ruffs. Declarer entered dummy with a spade to the ace and returns a heart.

If you make the mistake of following low, South makes the contract. His jack forces West's ace and there is nothing your partner can return to harm declarer.

A heart lead to your king would be futile, since it would make South's queen a trick and permit him to discard one of dummy's clubs on the queen. A club return would be equally fruitless, while a diamond return would also accomplish nothing, since declarer could build up a heart trick all by himself.

But if you climb up with the king when the heart is first led from dummy and return a club, the story is altogether different. South winds up losing two hearts, a diamond and a club — and down he goes.

Now how in the world are you supposed to know that you should go up with the king of hearts at trick four? It seems to be a difficult play to make without seeing all four hands, especially because it violates the rule of second hand law.

Yet, actually, the king play is entirely logical. You can tell from seeing dummy that the only real hope of acquiring four tricks on defense is to assume that your partner has a trick in hearts and a trick in clubs.

If declarer has the A-Q of hearts, your king is dead regardless of what you do, so you might as well put up the monarch and hope for the best. When the king wins the trick, returning a club is like adding some icing to the cake.

McBride Trial Jury Selected

A jury panel of eight women and four men will begin hearing testimony Wednesday in the first-degree murder trial of Robert McBride, charged in connection with the Oct. 28 shooting of his step-son, Ernest Eugene Beaman.

The jury was selected late Tuesday after attorneys for the state and the defense questioned 34 prospective jurors regarding any possible knowledge of the case or parties involved or witnesses expected to testify.

Special emphasis on the questioning was placed on the prospective jurors' feelings in connection with the death penalty since the jury must determine the punishment in a first-degree murder case which carries a penalty of life imprisonment or death in the electric chair.

McBride, 51, has entered three innocent pleas in connection with the charge including an innocent plea under Nebraska's new self-defense act.

The jurors selected to hear the case are:

Alessio Family Indicted On Income Tax Evasion

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — A special federal grand jury indicted five members of the wealthy Alessio family Tuesday on charges of evading $929,000 in federal income taxes and failing to report another $1.28 million.

The indictment returned in U.S. District Court names John S. Alessio, his son and three of his five brothers.

U.S. Atty. Harry Steward said the charges involve money used by the family-owned Alessio Corp. for improvements to property in the San Diego area.

Steward said the bills were paid by Caliente race track, across the Mexican border in Tijuana. The Alessios are executives of the track.

Until their arraignment in two weeks, Steward said the Alessios remain free on their own recognizance.

An attorney for Alessio said the indictments apparently concern "monies obtained as loans from Mexican citizens who are investors with and who have done business with the Alessio family for many years."

Steward said the indictments cover tax returns from the years 1963 through 1966. He said his investigation "does not include loans from Mexican citizens."

Alessio, 59, is board chairman of the Alessio Corp., which has assets of more than $18 million. He overlooks San Diego from his 11th-floor office in the Avenue Financial Center, which the corporation owns, and lives in a Mediterranean mansion on a suburban peak.

—WIND-BLOWN DUAL MEET— LSE Gains 103-29 Win Over Pius X

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln Southeast claimed a wind-blown 103-29 dual meet high school track victory over Pius X on its home oval Tuesday afternoon.

An expected head-on meeting between two of the state's top sprinters — Southeast's Ron Strnad and Pius' Paul Nevels — failed to materialize.

Nevels, sidelined by a pulled hamstring muscle, was on hand in street clothes. That prompted Southeast coach Roy Churchill to enter Strnad as an exhibition runner only to give some of his other sprinters a greater test.

With the gale blowing behind him, Strnad was clocked in .097 in the 100, though Pius' Lynn Finney was the actual winner in 10 flat. Strnad's timing would have been the fastest recorded in the state this year.

Southeast's Win Buckley, who cleared 14-0 in the pole vault last week — one of just six who has managed that height in Nebraska prep history — was scratched from his specialty.

"We have a big meet with Hastings Friday," Churchill explained, and we didn't want some of the boys to work at full speed today. This way they can put in a full week of training before the Friday affair."

Southeast basketball coach Wally McNaught measuring the leaps in the long jump pit, was amazed when the first effort was measured at 25-11, over a foot farther than the state's best ever, recorded in 1961 by now pro football great Gae Sayers.

OEO Takes Steps To Stop Charges

Washington (AP) — The anti-poverty agency took steps Tuesday to prevent further possible conflict of interest charges by prohibiting for one year the award of contracts to firms which hire former Office of Economic Opportunity officials in senior positions.

The new policy was announced by Director Donald Rumsfeld in the wake of congressional complaints that sparked an agencywide survey which revealed "extensive deficiencies in the review and monitoring of contracts and grants as well as widespread lack of proper management."
